Some may remember that this template was a main cog in the Seven Habits Planner System published by Covey in the mid-1990's... I enjoyed using it for awhile. It was punched for the standard seven hole -- and the Seven Habits Planner pointedly preached against the daily prioritized to-do list and other items in the Franklin Planner.

Yes, the right side is a "to-do" list. Just to hold randomness that comes up ? You know how you will work best with planner pages ... but I would minimize the amount of printables (otherwise your book will be SO thick!) – so either use the "To-do" list space to write in more daily assignments, OR find another daily list from another source that is a better fit, and just ...
